

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

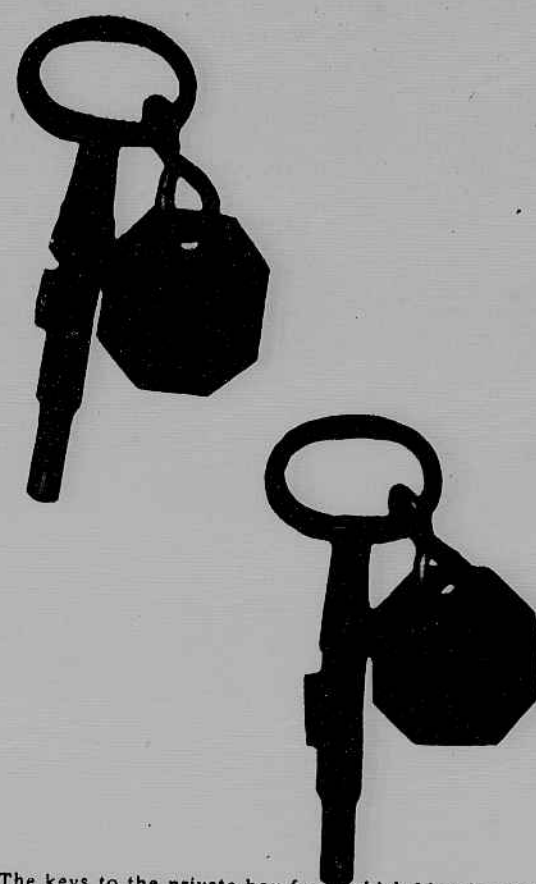

Photos © International Film

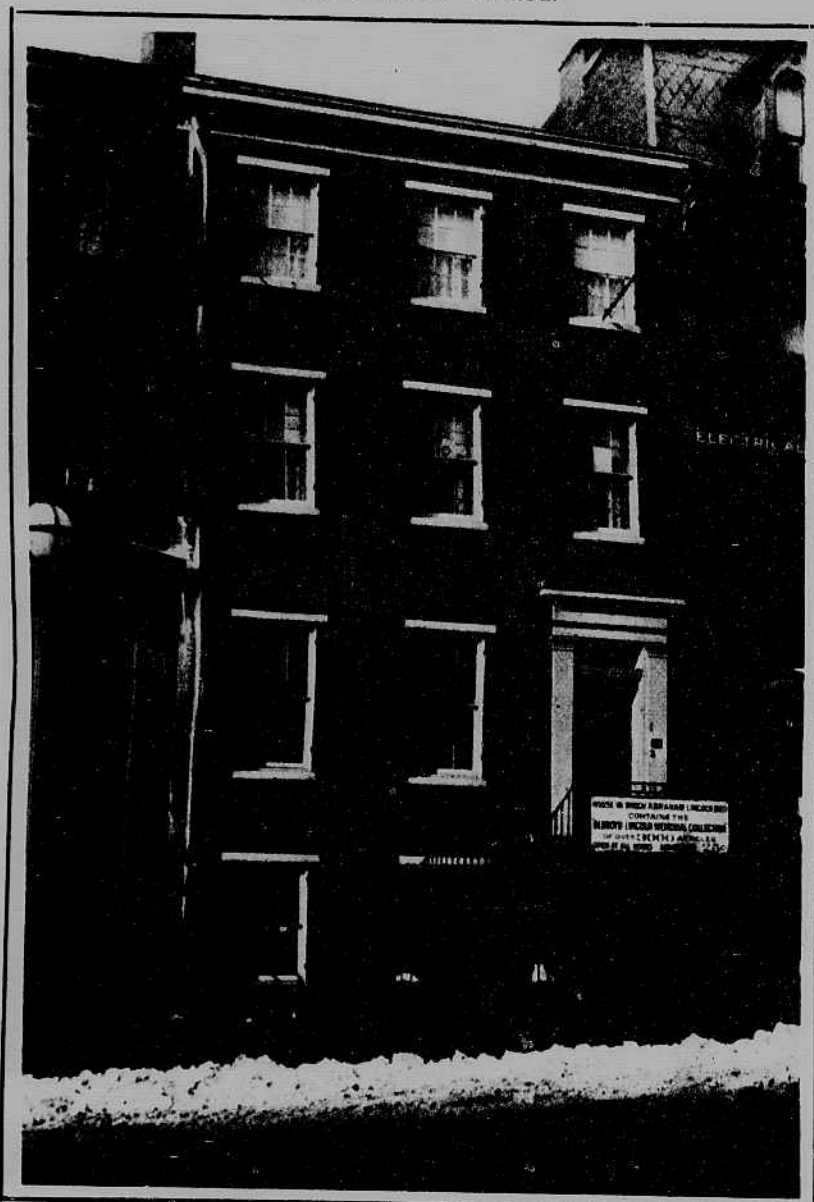

An original photograph of Lincoln made in Washington shortly before he died.

The chair used by Lincoln in the law offices at Springfield, Ill.

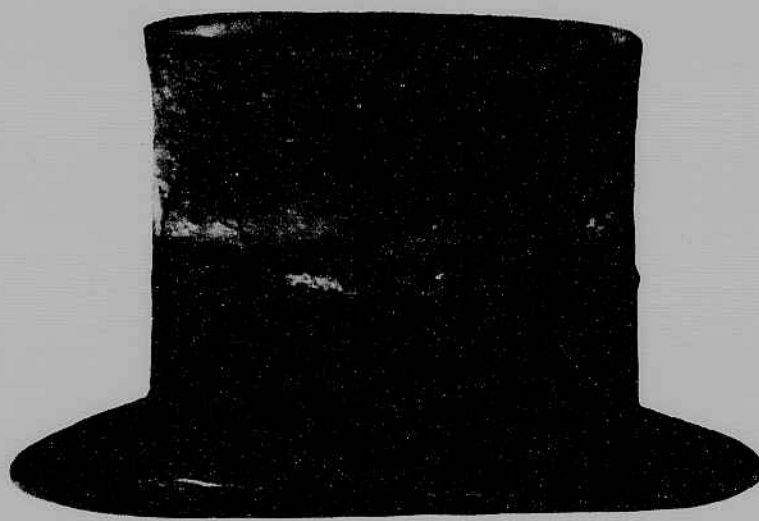

The keys to the private box from which Lincoln viewed the performance of "Our American Cousin."

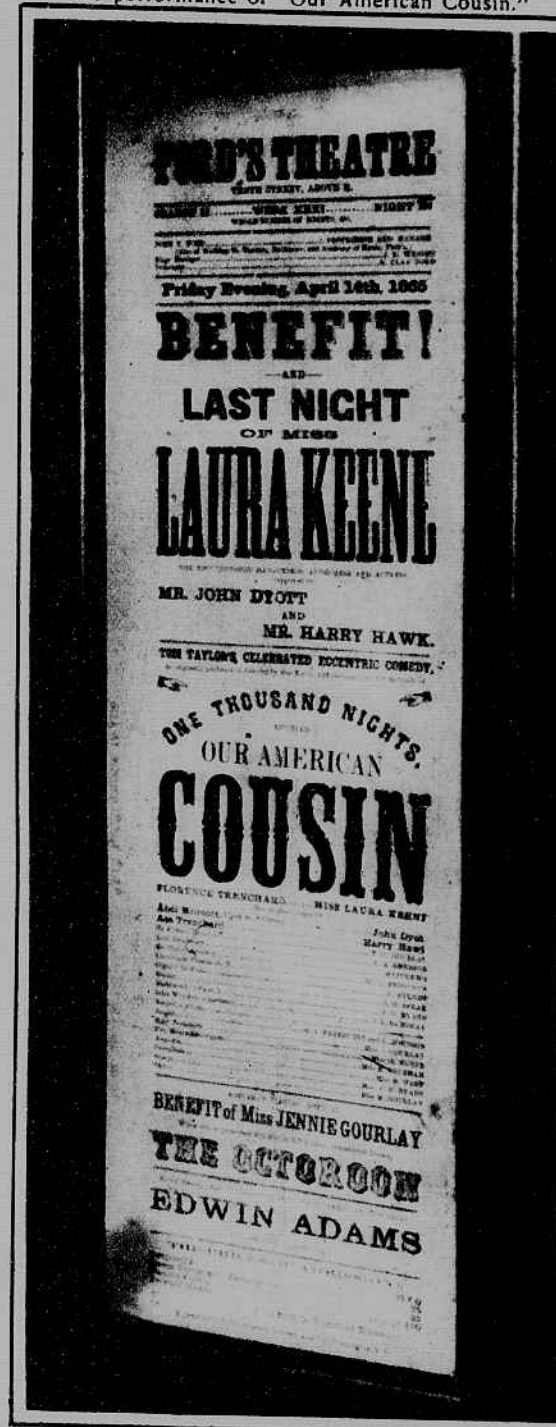

The house at 516 Tenth Street, Washington, where Lincoln died.

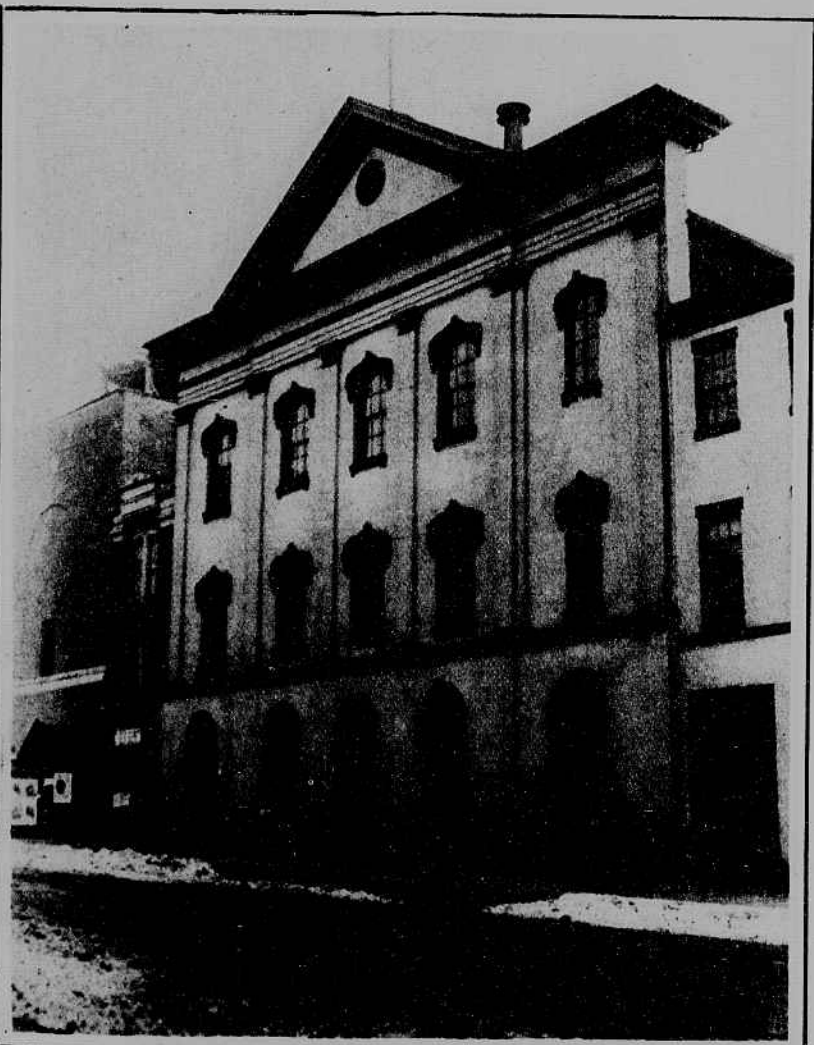

A corner of the room in the Tenth Street house in which Lincoln died. The building is now owned by the government and contains many memorials of Lincoln.

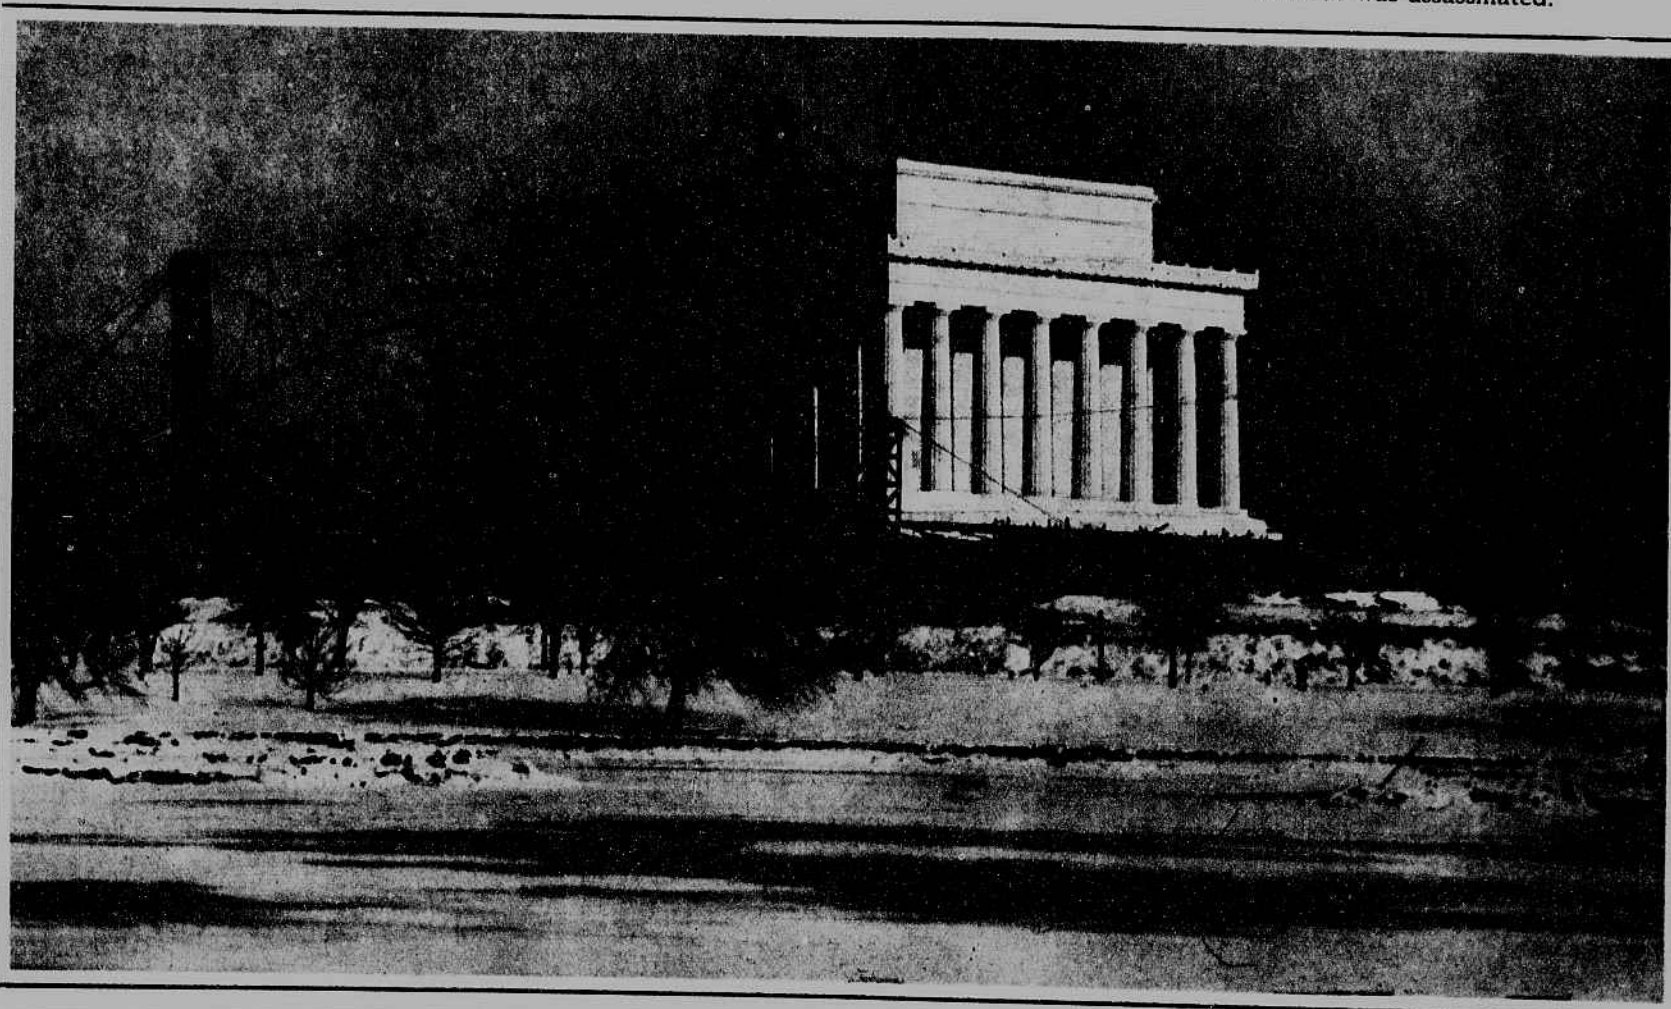

The hat that Lincoln wore.

The programme at Ford's Theatre the night Lincoln was assassinated.

Ford's Theatre, Tenth Street, Washington, where Lincoln was shot on the night of April 14, 1865. The building is now used for government offices.

The new Lincoln Memorial in Washington under construction.